Description: Promenade is a rapprochement between dance, video and architecture, finding new interpretations of space.

I Can't Dance, 2016 (Canada)

Director & Choreographer: Izabel Barsive | Performers: Citizens of Sudbury, Canada | Music: Tear Ceremony

Description: The poetry of a city can be defined in the movements of its citizens and the movements of objects.

Snags in Palladio, 2015 (Italy)

Director: Michele Manzini | Choreographer: Michele Manzini and Barbara Canal

Description: In the modern era, when tensions and contradictions become so bitter and extreme as to threaten the destiny of humankind, the concept of beauty reappears as an idea that makes differences visible without destroying them.

3 Conversations, 2016 (USA) *Best of Festival Award Winner

Director & Choreographer: Rebecca Salzer in collaboration with the performers | Cinematographer: Tara Knight | Performers: Liz Burritt & Liam Clancy | Editing: Rebecca Salzer | Sound Design: Omar Ramos

Description: A short screendance about the varied textures and tight spaces of intimacy.

Dead Draw, 2016 (USA)

Directors & Performers: Charli Brissey & Courtney Harris | Editing by Charli Brissey

Description: Two dandies flirt over a game of chess.

Kintsugi, 2014 (Italy)

Director & Choreographer: APOTROPIA (Antonella Mignone + Cristiano Panepuccia) | Music: Cristiano Panepuccia |

Cinematography: Cristiano Panepuccia | Performer: Antonella Mignone

Description: Kintsugi, which means "golden joinery," is the Japanese technique of mending broken ceramics with gold filled resin. Scars are links to the events that caused them and very often these events are traumatic.
